PeopleAdmin Analytics

Empower data-driven decision-making and institutional efficiency with actionable insights gleaned from your talent management data.

Uncover key insights into compliance, diversity and other complex hiring initiatives

PeopleAdmin's Analytics is specifically designed to provide powerful analytics to higher education talent management professionals, and their peers.

How? For starters, the University of Arkansas, North Carolina State University, Villanova University, and other leading institutions partnered with PeopleAdmin to build it.

Then there's the higher education-specific features, such as the Diversity dashboard. Whether you need an up-close look or a broader picture, you can proactively review the progress of diversity initiatives within specific departments, date ranges, or stages of the hiring process.

And, with automated reporting, you can easily schedule simple-to-understand reports for institution leaders and key stakeholders, and demonstrate the benefits of strategic partnerships across your institution.

Data visualizations

- Quickly transform hundreds of thousands of data points into a handful of meaningful patterns using filters and visual depictions.

- Drill into the details of your recruiting information, including voluntary demographic information, or adjust your report parameters for a broader view of your diversity mix.

- Visualize your data wherever you are, using your desktop, laptop, tablet or smartphone.

Rich analysis

- Empower nontechnical users to quickly access data and build business intelligence reports.

- Develop quantifiable, focused HR programs using powerful, self-service dashboards.

Data security

- Work with PeopleAdmin to designate access and functionality to specific users.

Powerful collaboration

- Dashboards are web-based, so key stakeholders can access and monitor the same reports — without downloading any files.

- Set up automatic alerts with links to important reports so key stakeholders stay informed throughout your hiring process.
